

Dublin, 2013

Shared Histories, Smart Futures Forum

This is an interactive dialogue that will focus on action outcomes for cities, businesses, Education and Civic Society around how best to build a smart economy and society in our cities

Wednesday 23rd October, 2013 Welcome Reception: City Tour & City Hall

| | |
|-------|--|
| 13.00 | Mayors/Civic Leaders Lunch |
| 14.00 | Launch of Shared Histories, Different Allegiances Exhibition, Civic Offices |
| 14:30 | Guided City Tour |
| 18:30 | City Hall: Registration and Networking Reception and Entertainment |
| 19.30 | Dinner |
| 21.30 | Finish |

Thursday, 24th of October, 2013, Dublin Castle, Printworks Room

| | |
|----------|--|
| 08:00 | Registration |
| 08:30 | Opening Session : Shared Histories, Smart Futures ; Opportunities and Necessity |
| 09:30 | The Smart Future Challenges for Cities – Open Dialogue |
| 10.30 am | Coffee and Networking |
| 10.45 am | Infrastructural Challenges and Business Opportunity – Smart Responses |
| 11.30 am | People and Sports as driver of smart futures |
| 12.30 am | Lunch |
| 13.30 | Open Innovation – driving the smart future through open innovation |
| 14.45 | Tourism, Events & Culture – How collaboration can win? |
| 15.45 | Open Floor |
| 16:30 | Conclusion |

With contributions from.....

- Lord Mayor of Dublin, Oisín Quinn
- Lord Mayor of Liverpool, Gary Miller
- Lord Mayor of Belfast , Mairtin O Muilleoir TBC

- British Ambassador to Ireland Dominick Chillcott
- David Gavaghan, CEO, Titanic Quarter Belfast
- Martin Curley, Vice President at Intel Corporation and Director of Intel Labs Europe
- Darren O' Neil, Olympic Irish Boxer
- Mary Kerins, Dublin Airport Authority
- Shona McCarthy, CEO, Culture Company Derry
- John McGrane, Ulster Bank
- Kieran Shannon, Journalist, The Irish Examiner

Exhibitions

The following two exhibitions will be launched as part of the Shared Histories, Smart Futures Forum and the Dublin Festival of History.

- Shared Heritage; the shared literary and cultural connections between Ireland and the UK expo will be displayed in the Printworks Room, Dublin Castle during the Forum. This is open to delegates having been open to the Public since September 26th as part of Dublin Festival of History 2013
- Belfast City Council's Shared Histories, Different Allegiances will be on display in the Civic Offices. This is open to the Public.