

The Belfast Canvas Public Art Project

The Dublin canvas is an inclusive public art project. The main objective of the project is to 'colour in the city'.

A Belfast canvas could bring some colour to our city especially in our communities and the new BRT route linking west and east Belfast could offer a good starting point for a dynamic and colourful project such as this to be piloted.

I call on this council to work with the relevant utility companies, Department of infrastructure for communities to support and resource a Belfast canvas programme.

Proposed By Councillor Baker.
