Moved Councillor Beattie,
Seconded by Councillor McDonough-Browne,

“The Council agrees to adopt a phased response in order to help the organisations manage the public health issue across Council facilities and provision of Council Services. In the first instance, the Council agree to keep Council services/facilities open with the exception of those listed below:

- City Hall will be closed for tours including the exhibition with immediate effect, however the registering of births, deaths and marriages will continue. Weddings and civil partnership ceremonies will be facilitated. All other functions/events in City Hall will be cancelled until further notice.
- From Monday 16 March Malone House and Belfast Castle will be closed to the public. Functions already booked at these venues can continue.
- Tropical Ravine and Palm House closed until further notice.
- Belfast Zoo will be closed to the public until further notice.
- Pitches and pavilions will be closed with immediate effect until further notice.

The Council also agrees to monitor Belfast City Council organised events and to keep under daily review.

The Council agrees to place particular emphasis on the fact that the majority of its facilities and services remain operational, including the following, although these will be kept under review:

- Community centres and parks will remain open.
- Recycling Centres will remain open.
- Leisure Centres will remain open.
- St Georges Market and Smithfield Market will remain open.

The Council further agrees to work with the Public Health Agency and the Northern Ireland Executive seeking support from Department for Communities to make a series of interventions to protect those most at risk including older people and these whose immunity may be impaired.

The Council agrees to request that the Department of Finance create a package of measures to mitigate the worst impact of closures and potential
